A DEAD CALM.

NOT A RIPPLE OR A WAVE.

Michigan May be Counted Republican---Senate Appropriation Committee Favor House Bill---Not a Murder, Fire, Sensation or Any Excitement Whatever in the Country.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—SENATE.—The Senate committee on appropriations by a strict party vote, decided to report back the Army Appropriation bill without any amendment and recommend its passage in all particulars precisely as it came from the House of Representatives.

Withers reported back from the committee on appropriations the army bill without amendment.

Blaine gave notice of an amendment making it a penal offence, punishable with fine and imprisonment, for any military, civil or naval officer or any other person, except for purposes named in the bill to appear with a deadly weapon of any description within a mile of any polling place in the United States, where a general or special election for Representatives to Congress is being held. Mr. Withers will call up the bill after the New Hampshire Senatorial question shall be decided. The Senate adopted Bayard's resolution, calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for a statement of the sums of money paid to John I. Davenport since 1870. The Senate resumed the consideration of the New Hampshire Senatorial case.

The New Hampshire senatorial election case continued without action. Carpenter made legal augument against his admission. The House went into a committee of the whole on legislative appropriation bill, and after disposing of sixty pages of the bill, adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.—Frye, of Maine, had read a letter from the editors of the "Okalona States," which Muldrow, of Miss., had stated did not represent any respectable element of the Mississippi, Democracy and enclosing an extract from that paper of August 28th, 1878, supporting Muldrow as Representative from the First District of Mississippi. He had nothing further to say on the subject.

A debate has sprung up as to the propriety of of instructing the chairman of the Committee of the Whole when the House shall be in committee on the Legislative Appropriation bill and to award the floor in accordance with the rules of the House and not to be bound by any list of Speakers which may be formed.

U. S. Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Chief Justice Wait announced in the U. S. Supreme Court to-day that the Court would hear the Attorney General of Virginia, Monday next, in suport of petitions for the Habeas Corpus and Certiari in Rives Cole case, and especially upon the question of the power this court has to issue writs prayed for.

Michigan Elections.

DETROIT, Mich., April 8.—Returns from one hundred and sixty towns, including Detroit, with a Democratic majority of over 1,300; gives Campbell, rep., for Sepreme Court Judge, 719; Grasvenor, rep., for Regent, 329, and Shearer, rep., for Regent, 473, majority. The majority on the Republican State ticket is estimated from 5,000 to 10,000 over the Democratic and Greenback coalition ticket. At Grand Rapids, the citizens ticket, composed of hard money republicans and democrats, was elected. At Lousing, the republicans elect their entire city ticket. At Jackson, the democrats elect the Mayor, and the republicans the balance of the city ticket. At East Saganaw, the republicans elect the Mayor, the balance of the city ticket is mixed. At Adrian, the republicans elect the Mayor. At Muskegon, the republicans elect the Mayor and the democrats the balance of the city ticket. The Coalition elect the entire city ticket at Bay City; the republicans elect the Mayor and the democrats and nationals divide the balance of the city ticket.

More Money than they can Invest.

The Times financial article says, Consols touched 98 on Monday, for the first time since 1858. Prices on all first class securities are so high that capitalists are at their wits end to know what to do with their money. London discount houses were obliged to refuse large deposits offered from provinces, on account of the impossibility of using them profitably. Three months bank bills quoted at 1½ @ 1⅝ per cent. discount.

Cincinnati Elections.

CINCINNATI, April 8.—At 1:45 o'clock this morning returns showed that Jacob (Republican) was elected beyond doubt. His majority will be from 1,000 to 1,500.

The Nationals in Toledo.

TOLEDO, April 8.—The city election yesterday was quiet and orderly. A very full vote was polled. At an early hour this morning returns from all but one ward indicated the election of the entire National ticket, with the exception of police Judge by from 400 to 500 majority. The Board of Aldermen stands, two Republicans, 2 Democrats and four Nationals. The National ticket was headed by Jacob Rowes for mayor. The vote of the Nationals shows about the same strength as the election of last fall.

Another Cable Company.

LONDON, April 8.—The Daily News says the whole capital of the Poyer Quertier Cable Company amounting to forty-two millions fancs has been subscribed, and one quarter paid up. Contractors, engineers and officials have received instalments on account of the Cable Manufacture salaries, etc. These facts should be made known to the shareholders of the Anglo-American Cable Company at their meeting today.

Butler's Motion Quashed.

BOSTON, Mass., April 8.—In the United States District Court to-day, a motion made by General Butler to quash the indictments against a number of illegal voters at the last election was denied.

Evansville, Indiana Republican.

CINCINNATI, April 8.—In Evansville, Indiana, the Republicans elected the entire ticket.

The Pope Aids the Schools.

ROME, April 8.—A letter from the Pope to the Cardinal Vicar is publisded, in which the Pope announces that as the success of the movement for increasing and improving Catholic schools in Rome, will greatly depend upon pecuniary means. He proposes to contribute annually, as large an amount of money as his private means will permit, and as the conservation of the faith in Rome is connected with the interests of the catholic world he will also devote to Roman schools as much of Peter's pence as the needs of the universal churc hwill permit.

Alabama Medical Convention.

SELMA, April 8.—Alabama State Medical Association convened here this morning with a full ottendance.

Politics in France.

PARIS, April 8.—The Bonapartist are much elated at the almost certain triumphant of M G delle, Bonapartist candidate in the district of Champs Elyses on the second ballot. Paul De Cassagnic was banqueted last night by one hundred and eighty students of the Latin Quarter. In the course of his speech he related a conversatio between himself and the Prince Imperial, in which the latter said my father's misfortune was to mistrust his health, so he wished to place two reigns simultaneously, namely, his own which was antoriliairs and mine which might be liberal. I am then forced to recommence to resume the antorilaire reign and to leave the liberal one to my successor if events allow it.

At Bordeaux at the supplementary elections Sunday, for members of the Chamber of Deputies, Louis Banqui, still imprisoned for conspiring against the government's national defence, polled 37,000 votes against Lavertujoin, Gambettist Republican, who received 4,706 votes. Two obscure Radicals polled one thousand five hundred votes each, and if on the second ballot, which is necessery, these votes should swell Blanquis' score his return is quite possible. This is considered significant.

THE HALIFAX ALSTON.

A Reminiscence of North Carolina.

Bob Alston came of a princely stock. His ancesters settlee in Halijax, North Cerolina, nearly a century ago. They were imperious, dauntless people, of enormous wealth, lavished habits and stirring traditions. They were of a stubborn strain of fighters, dominating over everything and brooking no contention. They were known over the country as gentle but a reckless race and came to be called the "Halifax" Alstons. Many a time have I heard Alston tell, in his frank and bright way, of the traditions of these people—how they traveled from one of their estates to another in almost regal state—with the old King George coach and four and an army of sable attendants—how his grand-mother used to carry her own sheets and pillows and loaf sugar with her everywhere she went—and of how, in her mettlesome days, racing with her husband over the country-side; she would put $100 on a cock-fight and follow the fox hounds where none but the Alstons daie l ride. Or of how his grandfather offered his estates to Jefferson when war was declared, and drank rye coffee to his death, because he drank it during the war—of how honest Willis Alston, his grand uncle, had to confront the whole State of Carolina because of his assault upon a defaulting State Treasurer, and of the lordly way in which these two brothers fought and frolicked alternately with the gentry from Virginia to Georgia.

The elder of these "Halifax" Alston, the grandfather of Bob Alston, came to Georgia with his family, and bought the "Shoulder-bone lands," now owned in part by David Dickson. He had by this time lavished much of his wealth, but was still immensely rich. He has three sons—Willis (Bob's father,) Augustus and Gideon. Each of these men came to a violent death. Wiliis Alston became involved in a fend with the Ingrams of Hancock county. a very brave and honorable family.

SEVERAL RENCONTRES TOOK PLACE BETWEEN THEM,

and their feud was the reigning sensation of that section of the State for months. Colonel Alston always went armed with a "yager"—a funnel-shaped gun deadly and heavy. He, had, however, several pairs of fine duelling pistols. One night a general engagement was expected and the duelling pistols were all out for inspection. Young Gideon Alston was at home on a vacation from the University of Georgia, where he had risen to sophomore. I have heard Col. Mark Johnson say that he was the most winning boy he ever knew, and a boy of great brilliancy. There was also in the house a young Castilliad namen Pepin that Willis Alston had picked up when he was in Nashville, paying his suit to Miss Trimble, who afterwards married General Sam. Houston. Colonel Alston saw this friendless boy and adopted him. He was a great favorite with the family. He and Gideon on this night left the room with some pistols to try them. In few moments Pepin came back and announced that he had shot Gideon through mistake, and killed him. Pepin was given a place in the navy and was drowned in one of tropical seas. It is notable of this Alston-Ingram fued that a dramatization of it was written and published. The MSS. was discovered, without signature or clue, in the hat of a lady, who was fearless and widowed. She published it. Had the authors baen known they would have, in all probaoility, been killed.

WASHINGTON.

EFFECT OF THE DEBATE ON THE ARMY BILL---BETTER UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN PARTIES,

Prospects of a Short Session Growing Brighter---Anticipated Action of the Senate---Bad Results Likely to Follow the President's Veto.

Washington Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald, Monday, ‹pril 7,

EFFECTS OF THE DEBATE IN THE HOUSE.

The nine days debate in the House on the Army bill did a great deal of good. It cleared away some of the fog which beset the subject in the beginning, and it left the House in a better humor than at the opening of the session. It gave men on both sides time and occasion to think, and thus answered one of the most important purposes of discussion. It eliminated from the controversy the foolish assumption of the republicans that putting a rider on an appropriation bill was a revolutionary act and a measure in itself so offensive to the President that he would be justified in vetoing the bill on that account, There is some reason to believe that the President had been persuaded that he could justify a veto on the simple ground that there was a rider on the Appropriation bill; but General Garfield's frank admissions on this point last Friday show that this opinion is no longer entertained.

Second—The republicans have receded from the untenable position assumed by them early in the session—that they would use the rules of the House to keep out, to use Mr. Conger's words, "any bills except those which relate to appropriation." As the debate began to cool their heads a little they saw that to forbid the introduction of measures' as separate bills and then to denounce the fact of putting those measures on the privileged appropriation bills was absurd.

Third—Further, the progress of the debate showed their ablest men that they could not afford to put themselves before the country as asserting that it was absolutely right and proper to keep troops at the poll. Hence they had to cast about for safer ground, and this General Garfield took last Friday when he said:—

Your proposed modification of the law affects not the army alone, but the whole civil power of the United States. Civil officers are included in these sections, and if the proposed amendment be adopted you deny any power whatever to summon the armed posse to help him enforce the processes of the law. If you pass the section in that form you impose restrictions upon the civil authorities of the United States never before proposed in any Congress by any legislator since this government began. I say, therefore, in the shape you propose this it is much the worst of all your "riders." In the beginning of this contest we understood that you desired only to get the army away from the polls. As that would still leave the civil officers full power to keep the peace at the polls. I thought it was the least important and the least dangerous of your demands, but as you have put it here it is the most dangerous. If you re-enact it in the shape presented it becomes a later law than the Supervisors' and Marshals' law, and pro tanto repeals the latter. As it stands now on the statute book it is the earlier statute, and is pro tanto itself repealed by the harmless, so far as it relates to civil officers. But if you put it in here you deny the power of the marshals of the United States to perform their duties whenever a riot may require the use of an armed posse.

It was in pursuance of this change that Mr. Conger, who had originally declared his party's determination to prevent the introduction of repealing bills, yesterday guaranteed that if the Democrats would bring in bills repealing the statutes entire Republicans would support them.

ON THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE.

On the Democratic side the debate developed the fact there was two opinions among members to the course that ought to be pursued in case the President vetoes either or both the bills. One part of the Democratic members hold with Mr. Tucker's declaration on Friday that in such a case the appropriations should be allowed to fall; another very considerable and increasing number hold that this course would be unwise and improper, and are determined that the Appropriation bills shall be passed in any event, and if the bills with the riders are vetoed the political repeals shall be brought in separate bills. They are so determined in this that no doubt they will carry their party with them in this direction, but, if they do not, there will be enough Democrats voting with the Republicans to pass the Appropriation bills pure and simple, to make these secure in any contingency. This fact, which is now sufficiently well known, puts aside all the foolish Republican thunder about "revolution" and coercing the President" which has been fulminated from here in speeches which those who made them are already ashamed of.

ACTION IN CAUCUS.

The following accurate statement has some interest in this connection. In the original caucus to arrange the Democratic programme Mr. S. S. Cox moved that a bill repealing the obnoxious statutes should be presented separately and independently of the appropriation bills. This, with other propositions, was referred to the committee, which conferred with a like committee from the Senate caucus. In that caucus Mr. Cox again renewed his proposition, but Mr. Ewing, of Ohio; offered an amendment that the repealing statutes should be attached to the Appropriation bills. Warm discussion on this point followed, lasting seven hours Senator Thurman made a strong speech for Ewing's proposition, while Senator Whyte, of Maryland, and Kernan, of New York, supported Mr. Cox. Ewing's proposition won, however, but the arguments revealed wide debateable ground and much difference of opinion. Yesterday, previous to the passage of the bill, Mr. Cox made a significant inquiry of Messrs. Conger and Garfield—if they would accept the bills separately, and he suggested that the Senate would return them as separate bills in case the President should veto them on the Appropriation bills. Senator Ransom and others sitting near Mr. Cox at the time agreed with him after he had taken his seat, and thought his plan wise.

After all, however, there are considerations of great importance which should make the President hesitate before vetoing the appropriation bills, and should make the Democratic Senators extremely careful so to amend the political riders as to remove from them all reasonable objections on the part of the President.

EFFECT OF THE VETO.

The best men of both parties must see that a prolonged session will work very serious injury to the real interest of the country. A Presidential veto will necessarily prolong the session—even with the most reasonable conduct on both sides, and will almost inevitably open the door for general legislation—an event which neither the President nor the Secretary of the Treasury can wish to bring about, and which sensible men of both parties has so far united to avoid. Congress has now been in extra session nearly three weeks, and by the watchful and persistent efforts of its wiser heads nearly all legislation, except that for which it was specially convened, has been prevented. The House has adjourned over three Mondays successively, which are private bill days, to protect itself and the country from the avalanche of bills that will inevitably be poured in on the first call of States and Territories. The Speaker has so far diclined to announce the standing committees and all general legislation has been successfully blocked. It is evidently the desire of the House to confine its work to the passage of the two appropriation bills, and, if these are approved by the President, to adjourn, leaving all other business to await the December session. For the President to veto the two appropriation bills which will be sent him would be to make a prolonged session almost inevitable and would open the door to general legislation, disturding to the whole country.

ACTION OF THE SENATE.

There is little doubt that the debate in the Senate will lead to such modifications of the rider on the Army bill as may be shown to be necessary to accomplish the purpose to keep troops from the polls in anticipation of disorders, and to do more than this, and with such modification, the President will scarcely venture on a veto of a measure which was approved by the leaders of his party at the last session, and now again, and the tacking of which to the Army bill has been declared by General Garfield himself to be an orderly and constitutional proceeding.

CURRENT OPINIONS.

The President's Back-bone.

Atlanta Constitution.

The organs are engaged in a nervous attempt to manufacture backbone for Mr. Hayes. But in this they are making their usual mistake. If he has any backbone at all, he will do his duty.

Cincinnati Commercial.

Lively times yesterday in the house! Old John Brown's body was not allowed any longer to molder in the ground but he was dragged out and put to marching. Then we heard from Fort Sumter and bleeding Kansas.

Revolution Either Way.

Wash. Post.

It was "revolution" for the Confederates to leave the Capitol and it is "revolution" for them to come back. This is the Radical Southern idea condensed.

He Might, but He Hasn't.

Wash. Post.

James Gordon Bennett is entertaining whole acres of titled people in England who probably eat his dinners and wonder where the d—l he came from. A man with Bennett's means and opportunities might make his mark in the world if he had the wit or inclination to properly use the one or take advantage of the other. But he hasn't.

Of Course They Want it.

Wilson Advance.

The Republicans of course desire the retention of the bayonet law, because by its agency, they hope to be able to steal the Presidency again in 1880.

But it Depends.

Wash. Gazette.

Hayes is happy because he has a "party at his back." Now it depends a great deal on the serenity of the mind as to what a party is doing at one's back; if it should be applying its boot to any part of the body, the results are not satisfactory.

Butler's Tear Drops.

Wash. Gazette.

The tears that General Butler shed when speaking of his relations with Simon, were caught by an enterprising man from Ohio, and will be raffled off to get up a torchlight procession when he leaves town.

Valuable as Scare-Crows.

Wash. Gazette.

Garfield, Frye, 'Conger and other Radical elect-ricities would be valuable as patent "scare-crows" or "crow annihilators" in a corn-field; but they ain't worth a cent as Congressional "intimidators."

The Hired Man of the Republicans Talks.

Okolona Southern States.

Thurman has never endorsed the amendments. This is the biggest and brightest jewel in his senatorial crown. Let the federal brigadiers take back seats in the work of restoration. The republicans has no furher use for the Lincoln hirelings. By the way, Yankees don't it make you feel queer to think that we've defeated you fellows after all, and captured the capital?

The Plan of Campaign Uncertain.

Philadelphia Chronicle.

The organs say that the confederate brigadiers have captured the capital. Congressman Frye, of Maine, speaking in the name of the republican party, says the confederates have not captured the capital, and never will. It seems that the plan of campaign hasn't been quite agreed upon.

Too Much Revolution.

Springfield Republican.

"Revolution" is in the air again at Washington. This is the third time in three years. There was one when Hayes withdrew the troops, one when the democrats passed the Potter resolution, and now Mr. Garfield waves his red flag at the approach of another "revotion."

The Funny Garfield.

Washington Post.

Mr. Garfield is seldom facetious, but he must have meant to be very funny when he referred to the "immaculate record" of the republican party. Even the marine cavalry would have laughed immoderately had they been among his auditors.

Fun for the Dark Horse.

Pittsburg Post.

Thurman is reported ill, and Tilden has got down to a whisper. With those two presidential candidates off the track there would be fun for the dark horses, there being about one from each state and four from Ohio.

A Red Hot Comparison.

N. Y. Star.

A constitutional argument addressed to a Republican Congressman has about as much of the desired effect as would an attempt to propitiate the devil with holy water.

Enter Poor--Emerged Rich.

N. Y. Star.

Honest John Sherman's star is creeping toward the zenith. Senator Bayard says a good word for his financial management. What a pity that Wendell Philipps should have summed up John's honesty so tersely: "He entered Congress a poor man, and left it a rich one."

THE SAMPSON HORROR.

A WIFE POISONED BY HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Martha Spell---The Wife is sick---The Husband goes for Medicine---The Pills---The Liquid and the Corpse.

Goldsboro Messenger.

CLINTON, N. C., April 2, 1879.—The latest excitement in this county is in regard to the death of Mrs. Martha Spell, in Little Coharie township, Thursday morning, the 27th ultimore. Her murderer was, without doubt, her husband, W. T. Spell, sort of mechanic and "man of all trades," who is about thirty, 5 feet 10, erect, 150 avoirdupois, has black hair and beard, and a pleasing address. The facts in the case are briefly as follows: Spell, whose house stands immediately on the stage road leading from Clinton to Fayetteville, about fifteen miles from the former place, on the morning of the tragedy called on Dr. Holiday, the physician of the neighborhood, to obtain medicine for the deceased. Dr. H. prescribed and gave pills, and Spell at once returned home. Reaching home he gave his wife a liquid, showing her the quantity the doctor had prescribed as a dose, and she immediately took it as directed. Fifteen minutes after

SWALLOWING IT SHE WAS A CORPSE.

The above facts, alone with other suspicious circumstances, being reported to the Coroner, Dr. Holmes, he summoned a jury who assembled at the residence of the deceased, on Monday morning last, and rendered a verdict that, "Mrs. Martha Spell came to her death from the effects of poison swallowed at the instance of her husband, W. T. Spell, and her death was premeditated," or words to that effect. Spell was present when the investigation began, but seeing the evidence of his guilt rapidly accumulating, he "folded his tent like an Arab, and silently stole (ran) away.

THE STOMACH OF THE DEAD WOMAN

was forwarded to Prof. Redd, at the University, yesterday, and should the analysis reveal the presence of poison (strychnine is suspected,) it is the almost universal expressed wish of the good citizens of the county that His Excellency, Governor Jarvis, will, upon proper application, promptly offer a suitable reward for the arrest of the murderer.

SHOT DOWN IN A STEAMBOAT CABIN.

The Tragic Death of a Kentuckian Who Belonged to a Fighting Family.

Another bloody killing occurred on the steamboat Vigo, Thursday, at Gratz, on the Kentucky river. At Lockport, four miles above, a young man named Newt Abrams took passage, intending to go to Carrolton, on the Ohio river. At Gratz, Ky., the boat was boarded by an old man named George Roberts, with his brother and nephew. An old feud existed between Roberts and Abrams, which had once caused a shocking affray. As soon as Roberts, who was a stout, wiry man, able for any one, despite his sixty years, saw Abrams, he announced his intention of whipping him forthwith. With this intention he caught Abrams, and attempted to throw him down. Abrams backed into a corner, placed his head against Roberts' breast, and pushing him back attempted to draw a pistol from his hip pocket. Roberts divined his purpose and caught his arm, and the pair went around and around the cabin in their efforts to get the best of each otner. When half way down the cabin Abrams succeeded in getting his pistol out of his pocket, and placing its muzzle under his adversary's left ear, he discharged the contents of one of its chambers into his head. Roberts dropped, and as he was falling Abrams fired another chamber of his weapon, but the ball went wide of its mark, owing to Roberts' rolling over on the floor. A moment later Abrams came forward to where the terror stricken passengers of the boat were huddled, smoke still curling from the muzzle of his pistol, and said, as he placed the weapon in his pocket: "Gentlemen, I am sorry, but this is something that I had to do sooner or later." No attempt to arrest him was made, as he had acted in self-defense. A doctor was summoned from the town, who examined the wounded man's injuries, and pronounced them fatal. Abrams then consulted with the officers and passengers of the boat, asking their advice as to whether or not he should give himself up to the officers of the law. He was advised to return immediately to his home and await results. He took the advice, and walked home. Roberts lived on a farm, a little way back from the river, about a mile from town. When the boat arrived at his landing he was placed on a cot and sent to his house, where he died soon after. The doctor who attended the dying man remarked to some of the passengers, as he pointed to a knoll back of the town: "Over behind that hill lie twelve men who died with their boots on in fights with the Roberts family." Abrams has not yet been arrested.

ELIZABETH PATTERSON.

Madame Bonaparte Directs the Omission of Bonaparte From Her Death Notice.

Baltimore Dispatch to N. Y. Herald.

The official obituary notice of the lady, who, upon presenting herself at the Napoleonic Imperial palace, once told the attending chamberlain, "tell your master that I am Madame Bonaparte," reads strangely as follows in the Baltimore papers:

PATTERSON.—On Friday, April 4, at twenty minutes past one P. M., Elizabeth Patterson, in the 95th year of her age.

Even those charged with the "make up" of the various papers were astonished at this peculiar announcement and the omission of the word "Bonaparte." But, as a friend of the family stated, she died in the Presbyterian faith of the Pattersons, not in the Catholic faith of the Bonapartes, and the lady's wishes have therefore been religiously complied with by her grand-children.

The coffin plate also gives no indication that the remains are those of the lady who, during life, insisted upon being called a Bonaparte. It reads as follows:

0000000000000000000000000000000000

Your correspondent had an interview with Colonel Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, grandson of the late Mme. Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte, at his residence, corner of Park and Centre streets, this evening. The Colonel looked fatigued after his devoted attendence at the death-bed of his grandmother. I spoke to him in reference to the omission of Bonaparte in the Madame's death notice.

Colonel Bonaparte. Really I have never given the matter a thought.

"It is also 'Elizabeth Patterson' on the funeral invitations and her coffin plate," I said.

Colonel Bonaparte. You, no doubt, know that whenever a lady is divorced in America she takes again her maiden name?

"Then Mme. Bonaparte was divorced?"

Colonel Bonaparte. Most certainly. If you will take the trouble to go to Annapolis you will see a record of the divorce, which was granted in January, 1813. That is the date, I think, but anyhow. she was divorced. She signed all her legal documents "Elizabeth Patterson."

"But did she not sign all the receipts of her pension from Louis Napoleon 'Mme. Bonapaparte?'"

Colonel Bonaparte. Ah! that was before my time.

"You know she was fond of being called Bonaparte. I should think you would have left that to her name to the last?"

Colonel Bonaparte. As I have said before, that matters but little. She is known all over this country and Europe as Mme. Bonaparte and anything done now cannot change that; but really I have not thought much of the matter.

In regard to the funeral Colonel Bonaparte said: "It will be very private. Only her family and one or two friends are to be invited—the families of her granduncles, the Pattersons, Mrs. Clarke, a relative, and some few others—about fifty in all. There will be no flowers, as she objected greatly to them. The funeral invitation is written on deep mourning paper and is as follows: 'M.———, you are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of Mme. Elizabeth Patterson, which will take place from the residence of her late son, No. 85 Park avenue, on Monday next, April 7, at 10 A. M.'"

In an interview with Dr. McKenzie he said that it was Mme. Bonaparte's desire to leave out the name of Bonaparte in the death notices and on her coffin plate. She had always in her lifetime clung to the name of Bonaparte. When some few called and addressed her as Mrs. Patterson, she refused to recognize them, as that name graved upon her. Dr. McKenzie said: "I suppose it must have been by the wish of the grandsons that the name of Bonaparte was left out of the death notices and also on her coffin. It is customary when there is a separation to do that." The Docter said that there had been no divorce and Mme. Bonaparte wished none. She had said to him. "I am so thankful the Pope did not annull my marriage!" He told her that the Pope had no authority, as the marriage was as valid as he could make it himself.

Lots of "Revolutions.

New York Sun.

Whenever a republican thief is caught and stopped from stealing, he cries revolution. If the army is forbidden to interfere with elections, it is revolution. If barbarons test-oaths are stricken from the statute books, it is revolution, If free elections are demanded and creatures to control them are abolished, agajn it is revolution. They are likely to get plenty of such revolution before congress adjourns.

A Zoological Romance.

No sweeter girl ewe flever gnu
Ehan Betts Marten's daughter Sue.

With sable care, small, tayir waist,
And iiss you'd gopher miles to taste;

Bight, lambent eyes, like, the gazelle,
Sheep pertly brought to bear so well;

Ape pretty lass. it was avowed,
Of whom her marmo to be proud.

Deer girl! I love her as my life,
And vowed to heifer for my wife.

Alas! a sailor. on the sly,
Had cast on her his whether eye.

He yaid mp love for her was bosh,
And my affection I musquash.

He'n dog her fovtsteeps everywhere,
Anteater in the easy chair;

He'd setter around, this sailor chap,
And point her out upon the map.

Where once a priate cruiser boar
Him captive to a shore.

The cruel captain far outdid
The yaks and crimes of Robert Kid.

He oft would whale Jack with the cat;
And say: "My buck, doe you like that?"

"What makes you stag around so; say!
The catamounts to something, hey?"

Then he would seal it with an oath,
And say: "You are a lazy sloth!"

"I'll starve you down, my sailor fine,
Until for beef and porcupine!"

And, fairy hoarse with fiendish laughter
Would say: "Henceforth, mind what giraffe tar!"

In short, the many risks he ran
Might well alarm a braver man.

Then he was wrecked and castor shore
While feebly clinging to anoa;

Hyena cleft among the rocks
He er pt, sans shores and minus ox.

And when he would goat to bed.
He had to lion leaves instead.

Then she would say with troubled face:
"How koodoo live in such a place?"

And straitway into tears would melt,
And say; 'How badger must have felt!"

While he, the brute, woodchuck her chin,
And say: "Aye-aye, lass!" and grin.

* * * * *

Excuse these tears. * * It's over now;
There's naught like greif the hart can cow.

Jackass'd her to be his, and she—
She gave Jackal, and jilted me.

And now, alas! the little minks
Is bound to him with Hyman's lynx.

There are nearly ten thousand of their wheels in use and with the great reduction made in prices last month they expect to do a largely increased business this year. They invite correspondence from all in want of machinery and will send their large new pamphlet free.

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant organ. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, - - - APRIL 9, 1879.

HUSSEY & JORDAN PROPRIETORS

JOHN B. HUSSEY, . . Editor.

THESE are timely suggestions the Washington Post makes to the Senate: Unless Democratic senators wish to do the Republican party a service, they will not prolong for a single hour debate upon the army bill, which will be sent over to the Senate from the House to-day. It ts quite probable that Republican senators will consume all the time possible in denouncing it, but after all that can be said by them, not one additional fact will be contributed or a single argument advanced that has not already been heard. There is, therefore, no necessity to antagonize them.

The object of the Republicans is evident. They dream Executive action and its depressing influence upon them in the fight against the other repeat measures. Very few of them doubt that Hayes will approve of the army bill when presented to him, and about all the fight they can make is to keep the issue doubtful as long as they can. While it is an open question they can, by dint of dragooning., screw up their courage to fight in the House for the marshals and supervisors. The moment the army bill is signed, that moment their defense line is broken and a rout follows.

The Democratic Senate should take the position that the army bill has been thoroughly discussed and announce a continuous session until it is disposed of. In that event it could be laid before the fraudulent Executive by Tuesday or Wednesday. This is just the programme that the Republicans would not like to see adopted, and for that reason just the programme that should be adopted without a dissenting Democratic voice.

DIPHTHERIA is prevailing to a remarkable extent all over the world. In this country it has exhibited itself in a malignant form north, south, east and west. It has shown itself in nearly every country of Europe, and in Russia its ravages have been more fatal even than the plague. This disease, which rarely occurs except as an epidemic, has only been known in this country within the last twenty-five years, except in the way of occasional sporadic cases. It has not yet been settled whether the disease is communicable by infection or contagion, or whether the parasitic fungus frequently found in the false membrane is the cause of the disease or only its product.

THE revised Bible which the English scholars have been fixing up, it is said will show that our King James' revision is full of interpolations and false construction, and errors of kinds. It is feared by many pious persons that this new revision will have a tendency to weaken the belief in the inspiration of all scripture. The change from the old to the new Bible will be very marked indeedi so marked that many passages in our present word of God will be omitted altogether. There is quite a difference of opinion among church men as to the advisability of issuing this new revision, now that it is completed. There is no dispute abou its being much more accurate than King James' which it is intended to supplant.

THE railroad on the ice across the Missouri river at Bismarck has floated away. During the last day of its use, it was from one to three feet under water, and big ice chunks were sweeping over it, but trains of freight cars, bearing materials for the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad, were hurried over up to the last possible moment. The last locomotive to cross was careed by the moving and sinking of the ice, and the fire was extinguished by the water.

THE Philadelphia doctors have called the attention of the police authorities to the spectecle of a "woman show," now before the public in that city. By the terms of the match in whiah the wemen are there engaged, they must make four thousand quarter miles in four thousand consecutive quarter hours. Four thousand qnarter hours run through forty-one days and sixteen hours, and for that extended period period these women can never get a good sleep—since even with the best strategy on the part of their attendants they can never be off the coarse for more than twenty minutes at any one time. The physicians very properly ssgges that the police put a stop to this cruel exhibition.

IN California it is propossed to pass around a pledge as follows: I do pledge my honor as a truthful an honest man that I will not patronize coolie labor, or any person who employs such labor, and that I will make diligent inquiry when purchasing any ctmmodity; and this pledge I take without mental reservation." If the present rush of negro emigration to Kansas continues, in twelve months from now a similar pledge will be passing around in that Stato against the employment of negro labor.

IT is said of Northern Texas by the Dallas Herald that the tillers of the soil there make far more provisions than they have any use for, always have corn and meat for sale, and their cottou and cattle crops come in as clear profit. They are rapidly growing wealthy, and in less than fifteen years from now North Texas will be as prosperous as the blue-grass region of Kentucky ever was in its palmest days.

"THERE are enough American citizens in Alaska to entitle it to a territorial form of government," says the special agent of the Treasury Department in his report on the public service and resources of Alaska.

THE National Temperance Society has invited the clergymen of New York and vicinity to preach under the society's auspices an anniversary temperance sermon on Sunday, May 4.

WHERE was Martin when the vote on the Army bill was taken. He is recorded as dodging. Russell, too, was absent.

IT IS evident that the finding of the Court of Inquiry in the Fitz John Porter case will not close the discussion. The newspaper inquiry has now been entered upon, and hundreds of papers are devoting columns to it. The New York Times has an elaborate article upon the diversity in the finding of the court martial that condemned Porter and the court of injury that exonorated him, and concludes that these radically different views of the same transactions will rivive the old discussion as to where, in the military profession, discretion ends and disobedience begins.

The frantic appeal from St. Louis made by colored men for money, provisions, etc., for the negroes "fleeing from a second slavery," is interesting to say tha least. The Republicans headed by Senator Windom, started these poor dupes on a wild-goose chase from their homes in the south, and upon them devolves the raising funds. That Republicans will give any cash to the "fleeing" negro is not likely, but they will most signally fail to make any political capital on the strength of the "Democratic outrages" reported by the negroes at St. Louis, for the majority, and where the office-holders are negroes.

LETTER postage at two cents now, would be as high as three cents was in 1868. Let it come down to two cents. A letter, under the Postal Union can be sent to any civilized country on the globe for five cents. Certainly two cents is enough to send it to a neighboring town.

FOR the year ending with the 1st of April, 124,805 immigrants landed at different ports in the United States, but principally at New York. This is an increase of 26,265 over the year preceding.

OVER 200,000 of Hurd's great speech have been subscribed for, and nearly as many of Blackburn's.

Digest Supreme Court Opinions.

Reported for the News by Walter Clarke Esq., Attorney at Law.

BY DILLARD, J.

117. Wadsworth vs Carroll from Craven.

The court adheres to the rule laid down in Wade vs Newberne, 73 N. C. 318, and will dismiss an appeal where it appears that the Appeal Bond was not filed in ten days, but with leave to the appelant to move for a certiorari, to bring up the case, on laying proper grounds therefor.

BY DILLARD, J.

118. Etheridge vs Vannoy, from Bertie.

A purchaser of land sold under a decree of court may, if there arise a partial defect of title, ask an abatement of his bid or if he has paid in the money, ask a return of a proportionate part of it, and this though the purchaser knew of the existence of the adverse claim, and with such knowledge had the sale confirmed.

BY DILLARD, J.

119. Davis vs Moss, from Wilson.

At the organization of an Inferior Court in Sept. 1877 the Justices of the Peace declined to elect a Clerk but accepted the defendant the Clerk of the Superior Court as ex-officio clerk to the inferior Court, took his bond for two years and he entered into the discharge of his duties. The term of the the Superior Court Clerk expired in August 1878, (though re-elected) when the Justices of the Peace elected the plaintiff, clerk of the Inferior Court. Held; The right and duty of the defendant to discharge the duties of the clerk of the Inferior Court having begun as an incident to the office of Superior Court Clerk did not depend on the continuance nor terminate with it.

BY DILLARD, J.

120. Wilson vs. White, from Mecklenburg.

Insolvency alone, or coupled with a preconceived purpose of not paying for the goods, is not sufficient to render the contract of sale voidable at the option of the seller. But when in addition to these elements, the purchaser misrepresents his finacial condition, or misleads the seller, there is sufficient to warrant the jury in finding a fraudulent intent and rendering a verdict that the seller is entitled to recover the goods. It was admissible for the plaintiff to offer in evidence judgments obtained against the defendant, just before such sale, in a justice's court, and the assignment thereon of all the defendant's property as exemptions, both to show the undisclosed insolvency and also as bearing upon the fraudulent intent with which the purchase was made, and for the same reasons, it was proper for the court to allow the counsel to comment upon the fact that the defendant filed his petition in Bankruptcy immediately after receiving the goods. It is not the judge's duty to declare the law on a single selected fact, but to charge the law on the case as it was in reference to whole facts as the jury might find them, and it is no error to refuse a specific request, when in his general charge the law on the point is laid down correctly.

BY SMITH, C. J.

121. Matthews vs. Copeland, from Northampton.

Petition to rehear same case 79 N. C. 493. An objection that a judgment is in excess of the plaintiff's demand is good but it can be cured by the plaintiff's consent to correct the judgment. The new system adopts the rule, which prevails in a court of equity upon the overruling of a demurrer, and allows the defendant to answer over. But actions founded upon contracts made prior to the ratification of the C. C. P. are governed by the law existing before that date, sec. 8, par. 3, 4, C. C. P. Hence where such action is a substitute for the old action at law the plaintiff is entitled to a final judgment upon the overruling of a demurrer.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS DAMAGES.

A Nottoway Jury Gives a Ten-Thousand Verdict Against the Danville Road for the Loss of a Boy's Leg.

Special telegram to the Dispatch.

PETERSBURG, VA., April 5.—Last May a white boy, named Leslie Morton, while playing with other children on the turn-table of the R. & D. Railroad, at Burkeville, was so badly crushed that his leg was amputated. He sued, through his father, at this term of Nottoway Circuit Court for damages, laying them at $25,000. The testimony was contradictory, but the instructions of the Court were in accordance with the application of the defence. Both sides had the best counsel employed. The jury has just found a verdict for the plaintiff, laying his damages at $10,000. The company will carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

Did You See It?

Washington Post.

Last Thursday, just before sunset, I with others saw in the sky just over the Capitol dome a gigantic sword unsheathed, the handle pointing in a southerly direction, the point to the north, apparently imbedded in flame. This phenomenon was plainly visible far from ten to fifteen minutes. Did you see it?

D. VON C.

[We did not, and probably, for the reason that last Tuesday was the day set apart for our correspondent, and his kidney. It is just possible, however, that Conger stood in a favorable attitude for ten minutes and that the spectacle was a reflection on the heavens of his jaw. It has been a reflection on the human family for a long time. ED. POST.]

Stronach & Allcott have just received car loads of hay, and a large lot of oil, which they will sell lower than the lowest.

Dread and despair fall upon the community when a terrible epidemic, like the cholera or yellow fever, suddenly desolates our homes; yet, all the while a more insidious, but no less fatal foe, enters thousands of households every year and carries off the flower of the family in the early flush of manly youth and budding womanhoods People call it presumption, or "decline." It is not, in most cases, the tubercular phthisis or consumption of the lungs, which is the peculiar malady in climates like those of the British Islands and New England, but a general decay or arrest of the vital processes of nutrition. All the doctors agree that there is no remedy for this but COD LIVER OIL but they are constantly met by the obstacle of inability on the part of the patient to swallow or retain it. This repulsion is entirely overcome by SCOTT'S EMULSION OF THE OIL with the HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA which is agreeable to the taste, and an unequaled nutrient and tonic for the body, nerves and brain.

I am now a well man, have good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.

REV. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.

The first effect of TUTT'S PILLS is to Increase the Appetite, and cause the body to Take on Flesh, thus the system is nourished, and by their Tonic Action on the Digestive Organs, Regular Stools are produced.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

ATHENS, GA., December 8, 1878.

THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist,

DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure.

It is an excellent corrective of Indigestion I have used it with prompt beneficial results.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.

I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.)

It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. D. Ham. Sid. Col., Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people It is excellent for Indigestion and Flatulent Colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf,

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I found it anything with my [illegible] I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and happy [illegible] comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life and was cured, eating anything without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion, I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.

This remedy is of true virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant organ. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

OLD,

TRIED,

AND TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been spreading for 35 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a matchless remedy for all external ailments of man and beast.

To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable.

A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, ox, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot-rot, hoof-ail, hollow horn, grub, screw-worm, shoulder-rot, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and bush life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc. and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I never could breathe any more, and VEGETINE has cured me; and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs and weak, sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

HEPATINE.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

JNO. F. MAYNE.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23d, 1879.

Rev. J. D. Parker, of New Orleans, La., writes: "Having tried effectually the 'Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass,' for Diarhea, Kidney afflictions, &c., I take pleasure in recommending its use in these complaints. In my case it affords immediate relief.

J. D. PARKER."

With ten dollars worth of chemicals, which I will furnish in proper proportions for one ton of fertilizer, added to such materials as every farmer has in abundance around the farm, he can make a ton of fertilizer equal to the best high priced fertilizer on the market.

It is recommended by leading farmers, such as Mr. Wm. Grimes, J. T. Leach and others whose testimonials I have.

One of the best places in the city is the Higgs House, on Hargett and Salisbury streets, which is open at all hours. There are to be found choice game, oysters and all the delicacies of the season. The house has attained note for its excellence of cuisine and its many merits have made it very popular. *

You have only to try one of those delicious clear Havana, "Little Dorrit" cigarettes, or one of those "Lone Fisherman" cigarettes at Frank Grundler's cigar and tobacco headquarters, to be convinced that they are really the "most splendid thing out." They are first class really and truly.

REMARKABLE cure of an inflamed earduct or passage to the eye, without an operation—Mrs. Gibson who has a large and extensive confectionery and candy store at No. 25 East 43d Street, near the Grand Central Depot, was about to have a silver tube inserted in the tear passage of her left eye. The enlargement and inflamation were very great. Before submitting to the operation, tried Dr. Giles' Liniment, rubbed in carefully over the inflamed duct. The inflamation disappeared, the passage became clear and was through its power able to do without a surgical operation. Also took the liniment internally, a teaspoonful three times a day, in a wine glass of water. Sold by all druggists

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Remedy that has been Remedied.

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility, from reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumatism, the barely living shadow of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and and restore their shattered nerves, and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emulsion of it, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This is the finest and most natural food and medicine in the world, and wholly deprived of its disagreeable qualities. Sold by Wm. Simpson, Druggist.

Mr. Wm M. Giles, Chemist, Sir. I have practiced extensively in Europe and America, and your new discovery, Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, surpasses anything I ever used for splints, strains, lameness in the limbs or shoulders, weakness across the kidneys, wind galls, and hard, bony swellings on the joints. It is truly marvelous.
